

INTERNET POLICIES AND GUIDELINES FOR USE

Camden County Library District, including all branches, has the goal of providing equal access to the Internet for all residents of Camden County.

The Internet is a global electronic communications network which provides vast, diverse and unique resources. All Internet resources accessible through the libraries are provided equally to all library users. The libraries have no control over information on the Internet and cannot be held responsible for its content. All users must evaluate for themselves the validity of any information found.

The parents and/or guardians of minors are responsible for setting and conveying the standards which their children and youth should follow when using media and information sources. The local libraries support and respect each family's right to decide whether or not to allow their child to apply for access to the Internet. Parents are advised to supervise their children's Internet sessions. Children must be in fourth (4th) grade or above to use the Internet at the library alone. Parents must remain within eyesight for children under 11. Children who are preschool age through kindergarten may use the Internet with the direct assistance of a parent or guardian seated beside the child.

The computers are available to the public for other personal computing purposes as well as for accessing the Internet.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

- Anyone who holds a valid Camden County Library card
- Anyone who is in good standing with the library
- Anyone who has no delinquent materials checked out on their library card
- Anyone who is willing to abide by library policy and rules for Internet/computer usage
- A payment plan is available for large amounts overdue. If the patron is current on monthly payments, they will have their computer privileges restored.

HOW TO REGISTER?

No registration is needed to use the computers. Registration is automatic with your library card registration.

It is necessary to have either your library card or ID with you anytime you wish to use the computers.

CONTENT FILTERING

- We have implemented a content filter to comply with the CIPA (Children's Internet Protection Act) ruling.
- All Public Access Computers are filtered for content.
- Patrons may submit requests for review for a page they feel should be blocked or unblocked. Requests can be sent to contentfilter@cclld.us
- Blocked site lists are downloaded daily to keep us up to date on sites that are inappropriate.

RULES FOR USE:

No more than two at a time at any computer.

Each user is guaranteed one (1) hour of time if needed/wanted. If others are waiting, the computer must be vacated for the next user at the end of one (1) hour. The computers are available on a "first come, first served" basis unless advance reservation has been made.

Camden County Libraries do not issue e-mail accounts. Patrons may use free e-mail accounts such as hotmail or yahoo mail.

Patrons need to check with library staff concerning downloading of programs from the Internet, such as plugins to use with Internet websites that they are viewing.

Users shall assume full responsibility of learning to use the computers and software on their own. Library staff cannot provide in-depth training concerning Internet jargon or personal computer use. We can get you started and may be able to offer general suggestions on search strategies and answer general questions.

User's failure to observe any part of these policies, guidelines, rules may result in a suspension of their right to use library computers. Other usual and ordinary library sanctions may apply.

Anyone using the computers for other than Internet will abide by the same rules regarding making reservations, length of time for use and supplies.
